

of Justice officers working with the operators.

Scully and Gagan Head Raiders.

The roundup started in this city at about five minutes before the appointed time. Among the chief raiders were Charles F. Scully, head of the local branch of the "Red Squad" of the local branch of the Department of Justice, and James J. Gagan, detective sergeant in charge of the Police Bomb Squad.

Revolutionists of this city had sworn to assassinate both of these officers the next time they should invade their haunts. This oath had been taken by a secret band after the officers conducted extensive raids upon the Union of Russian Workers early in November.

But the threat was not carried out. If any one in any of the places visited had any intention of offering violent resistance he changed his mind quickly when he saw the proportions of the raiding parties. Other operatives conspicuous in the raid included Agents Francis Frick, Anderson and Tucker.

The officers descended simultaneously upon thirteen local headquarters of the Communist Party and Communist Labor Party and printing shops including the plant on East Tenth street where the "New Mir (New World)," a Russian Bolshevik paper, has been published. This is the paper which Leon Trotsky worked during his sojourn in this city.

Ludwig C. A. K. Martens was at one time a member of its executive board. This plant was invaded last week by a mob of angry soldiers and sailors who did much damage to the furniture.

In every place visited, from Harlem to Brownsville, Brooklyn, the raiders used the occupation of the premises and compelled them to remain in that position while they subjected the premises to a thorough search. Many were found to be empty, but at a late hour all that had been questioned by the officials had been released.

City Employee Is Caught.

One of the most important arrests was that of Julius Golding, a tax collector employed by the Finance Department of the city of New York. He was taken by Detective Sergeant Cornelius Browne of the police bomb squad at the Harlem branch of the Communist Party.

It was stated by the police that Golding had admitted that he was secretary and business manager of the Harlem "Communist." It was added that he had admitted that he had been in the city since the overthrow of this Government by force and violence and that he believed that within five years the majority of the people of the United States would be Bolshevik.

Many of the Reds on finding themselves trapped tried to tear up their membership cards or to crumple them in their pockets so that they would be unreadable. One was caught trying to hide his card in his shoe.

All seemed to be well supplied with money, but their personal belongings were not touched. They were forced to turn their pockets inside out so that the police and Department of Justice men might discover all revolutionary matter which they might be carrying.

Questions at length about their business, family relations and the length of time they had been in the country. The first thirteen raids were followed by others, and all night long the reports of prisoners streamed into the Department of Justice office and into police headquarters.

One noticeable thing was the fact that many of the prisoners bore any marks of violence.

In addition to this great influx of prisoners, officers spent hours in carrying boxes of revolutionary literature into the Department of Justice and into police headquarters. Many of the boxes carried in red banners bearing Russian inscriptions and large pictures of Lenin, Trotsky and other leaders of the revolution.

Throughout the night crowds of late home comers stood about the doors of the Puller Building watching this process of revolutionary literature being carried into the hands of the authorities.

Works His Way Into Jail.

One bewildered person involved in the Department of Justice office to ask if his friend "Louis" had been arrested at one of the Communist headquarters. He said that he knew his friend had been arrested because he had left him on the street a short while before the raid was made.

"You mean to say you were there?" "One of the officers asked.

"Sure," said the bewildered man. "In that case you'd better get right down, for we'll take you too," said the officer. The visitor obeyed.

The Communist Party in this city was Harry H. Whitney, secretary of the party, who is under indictment on charges of criminal anarchy and awaiting trial.

will begin criminal proceedings against them.

Each Jersey raiding party was accompanied by a special agent of the Department of Justice, an immigration inspector and an interpreter. The Jersey police were sworn in as special agents.

Acting on Chief Justice's orders, efforts were made to seize the offices of the various locals. Some were taken in their homes and radical literature was found there in many cases, as well as in the headquarters of the Reds. A list of the meeting rooms was searched and the charters and records of membership and the accounts were seized, together with red flags which decorated the walls.

Tons of radical literature were taken away in automobiles by the New Jersey police.

In Newark, the raiders visited the English branch of the Communist party at 97 Springfield avenue, the first Russian branch at the same address, the second Russian branch at 23 Allen street, the Ukrainian branch at 103 Jackson street, the Ukrainian branch at 160 Market street and the German branch at the Spring Garden, Fourteenth street and Springfield avenue.

Five Women Are Arrested.

Five women were arrested at the Communist Labor Party's meeting at 131 Prince street, Newark. One had a baby in her arms.

At the Russian and Ukrainian branch at 303 Cleveland street, Harrison, the raiders found the door locked and smashed it in with crowbars.

At 131 Third street and 507 Van Houten avenue, Passaic, Bayard Rustin and Gannett avenue, West New York; Liberty Hall, Newark avenue and Third street, Newark; where the doors were broken down to gain access; 304 Front street, Plainfield; 78 Peninsula street, Dover; 35 French street, New Brunswick; 403 East Jersey street, Bayonne; 4 Bridge street, Paterson; 164 Whitehead avenue, South River, and in many other places.

The roundup covered the entire State of New Jersey. Twenty automobiles were used in Trenton, where the prisoners numbered over 100. Nearly that number also were taken in Camden.

In Jersey City the City Hall was emptied of all persons save those having actual connection with the raids. A crowd of police was thrown about the building as a precautionary measure against attack by sympathizers with the raiders.

The Montgomery street police cars, which pass the City Hall, were rerouted and no vehicles or persons were permitted to pass. Most of the prisoners came from the lower section of Jersey City. After they had been taken to the City Hall, they were marched under a heavy guard to a waiting in the Hackensack River and taken to Newark.

An explanation of the nationwide roundup was issued last night by Francis P. Garvin, acting assistant to the Attorney-General at Washington. He stated that the raids were begun in thirty-five large cities and numerous smaller ones throughout the country.

The total number caught, he said, will not be known until tomorrow.

All of the warrants, he stated, are for persons supposed to be active in the large percentage being Russian. He added that the dragnet was being drawn for all alien members of the Communist and Communist Labor parties, both of which were charged for the same violent principles.

Garvin Issues Statement.

His formal statement was as follows: "Agents of the Department of Justice took into custody to-night several hundred members of the Communist party and the Communist Labor party of this country located in thirty-five cities on the charge that these organizations advocate and teach the overthrow of the United States Government by force and violence. The only difference between the Communist party and the Communist Labor party is one of leadership. Both of these parties since their organization early last September have been endeavoring to bring about the establishment of a soviet form of government in this country similar to that which now obtains in Russia."

The statement of principles of the Communist party, he said, is to overthrow the United States Government by force and violence. The Communist party of America is the party of the working class. The Communist party of America proposes to end capitalism and organize a workers' industrial republic. The workers must control industry and dispose of the products of industry.

The Communist party is a party realizing the limitations of all existing workers' organizations and purposes to develop the revolutionary movement necessary to free the workers from the oppression of capitalism. The Communist party insists that the problems of the American worker are identical with the problems of the workers of the world.

"The Communist party is the conscious expression of the class struggle of the workers against capitalism. Its aim is to direct this struggle to the conquest of political power, the overthrow of capitalism and the destruction of the bourgeoisie state."

Preparing for the Revolution.

"The Communist party prepares itself for the revolution in the measure that it develops a programme of immediate action expressing the mass struggles of the proletariat. These struggles must be inspired with revolutionary spirit and purpose."

"The Communist party is fundamentally a party of action. It brings to the workers a consciousness of their oppression, the impossibility of improving their lot by their individual action. The Communist party directs the workers' struggle against capitalism, developing forms and purposes in this struggle, culminating in the mass action of the revolution."

"The negro problem is a political and economic problem. The racial oppression of the negro is the result of the capitalist system. The Communist party is the only party which recognizes the economic bondage and oppression, each intensifying the other. This complicates the negro problem, but does not alter its proletarian character. The Communist party will carry on agitation among the negro workers to unite them with all-class conscious workers."

of criminal anarchy—was submitted

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

of criminal anarchy—was submitted

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

of criminal anarchy—was submitted

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

of criminal anarchy—was submitted

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

of criminal anarchy—was submitted

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

of criminal anarchy—was submitted

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

of criminal anarchy—was submitted

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office, with the result that they became convinced that membership in the organization is sufficient ground for deportation.

They have taken to the legal life of the attorney's office,